she's been so close to getting a good result, but then I've made a mistake so it's special that it's all come together," she added.

Piggy March (Brookfield Quality), Giovanni Ugolotti (No Rush One), Izzy Taylor (Cooley Rules) and Bill Levett (Lates Quin) all won at OI or intermediate level.

Elisabeth Murdoch's Lates Quin's win in OI section F was actually the horse's first British Eventing (BE) win, despite the fact he competes at four-star level.

"I don't go quick very often, but it was great ground for a good gallop – if you didn't go quick on ground like that, then when were you ever going to?" said Bill, who heads back to the gelding's country of birth for the CCI4*-L at Millstreet next.

"He was bought out of the Monart Sale and he gives me the feel of a good horse. He's superb across country and this year has all been about getting the mileage for Badminton next year."

The event had a new layout this year with the international dressage in the main arena and the national showjumping moved to the adjoining arena. A change round for the Sunday meant the main arena hosted the showjumping for the international classes.
